SUNDAY LITURGY

1st Reading: Isaiah 25:6-10a; 2nd Reading: Philippians 4:12-14, 19 - 20; Gospel: Matthew 22:1-14

Theme: We Are Invited to a Banquet, Not to a Funeral.

The banquet theme joins together the first reading and the gospel. The banquet is the symbol of the happiness and the joy present in the kingdom of God. The first reading tells us of a promise; the gospel tells us of its actualization. If the banquet has already begun (with the coming of the Messiah), why do we still have so much hatred, so many wars, deaths all over the world? Yes, the feast has begun, but the kingdom is still awaiting its full realization. The second reading is also connected with this theme. We are given the example of the community at Philippi where there is authentic love and where a completely new life has really begun; the help and the gifts sent to Paul are proof of this.

Response to the Psalm: In the Lord's own house shall I dwell for length of days unending

Gospel Acclamation:

Alleluia, alleluia!

May the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, enlighten the eyes of our hearts, so that we may know the hope to which he has called us. Alleluia.

Building News.

The Fabric Committee meets regularly with the Quantity Surveyor and the Diocesan Finance Director, to update us on progress towards the starting of works on the repairs to the church. We expect to have machinery and equipment on site – on the garden – early in 2027. We are looking for volunteers to help us to list items within the church for removal to safe storage before works begin. We will also be moving the ashes of some of our late parishioners who are buried in the garden – along the wall of the church. Permission for reburial of ashes has been granted. Family (if there are any living) of those whose resting places we move, will be notified.

Donations for the Cookout still coming in! A further £190 was received this week. So, thank you, it is all much appreciated.

Diocesan Newspaper for October is available at the back of the church. Please take a copy home with you.
